RECORD AND SEND MESSAGES

TIPS

You can enter names instead of extensions when sending messages. Use *A (or *2) to switch between name and extension addressing. Enter last name first when name addressing.

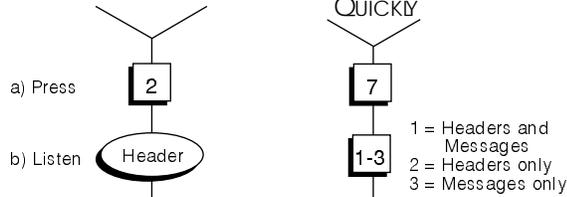

Private messages cannot be forwarded by recipients.

Priority messages are presented to recipients first.

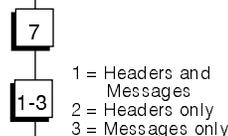

Filed messages can be modified and resent. To do this, press 4 (for Outgoing Messages) from the Activity Menu. (See the diagram on the back of this card.)

Schedule delivery of messages to yourself to use the system as a reminder.

The system saves messages unless you explicitly delete them. If you accidentally try to respond to an outside call, press # to back up (may not be available with your system).

CREATE PERSONAL GREETINGS

Tips

The system greeting is always greeting 0.

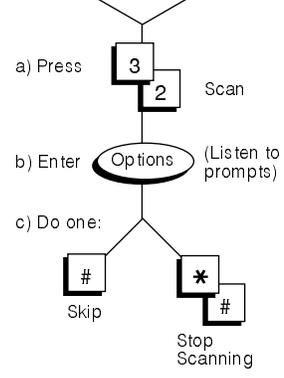

You may be able to record as many as 9 personal greetings.

The system doesn't care what single-digit number you assign to each greeting.

Keep track of your greetings by scanning them.

NOTE: You can also assign greetings to specific types of calls. For details, obtain the Multiple Personal Greetings Quick Reference (585-300-705).
